Nature's Immunity Booster

Olive Leaf Extract

Rupronol™

Support for Healthy Immune Responses

What is Rupronol™?

The olive leaf's therapeutic properties have been recognized throughout history for its immunity regulating and stimulating properties. Rupronol™ is formulated using RTM Technology live blood analysis* to support normal immune response to viruses, bacteria and parasites and contains the powerful phytochemicals from the olive leaf.

How?

Rupronol™ contains 18% oleuropein making it among the most potent olive leaf extracts available. Oleuropein is extracted from olive leaves and works like a wide-spectrum natural microbial when included with other olive leaf extract phytochemicals. Rupronol™ contains more than 90 constituents obtained from the leaves of specially grown olive trees which give it its uniquely powerful properties.

What People are Saying

"I had been diagnosed with rheumatoid arthritis and was treated with methatrexate. The pain in my fingers and toes was progressing. I'd had days when I could not drive because it would cause me excruciating pain just to push on the pedal with my foot. The curled position of the fingers on my left hand was becoming permanent. After using HealthWalk's Rupronol™ for 90 days, it is almost impossible to believe, but I have no pain, all my joints are back to normal size and I am getting compliments on the shape of my hands!" — Svetlana Elbert
